Victory at That Only Gives President "Even Break"
on Proposals

WASHINGTON, June 14.—A year to the day after his nomination for the presidency, Congress was ready to send to President Hoover a new farm relief bill carrying out his interpretation of the Republican campaign pledges to agriculture. As a result of the president's two-to-one victory in the house, Congress will approve a farm bill stripped of the export debenture clause which the senate twice adopted over Mr. Hoover's opposition. The debentureless bill will be approved finally by both house and senate probably this afternoon as a routine matter. The senate opposition to the president's farm policy having collapsed overnight.

Only Even Break
The farm relief victory, however, served to give the president only an even break on the four recommendations he sent Congress when summoning the special session.

His second victory came on the new census and reapportionment bill, which will give him the almost automatic power of reapportioning the house of representatives at Congress.

Hornell Company Will Have Second Plant

Sale of two Marion plants to out of town owners was announced today by officials of the companies. The Marion Ice & Cold Storage Co. and the Ohio Blue Limestone Co. are the concerns affected. The ice plant located on North Oak st. has been sold to the City Ice & Fuel Co. national operators of ice companies. The limestone quarry has been sold to the National Limestone Co. of Indiana.

New owners of both concerns have taken charge of the plants.

The City Ice & Fuel Co. now owns both the Hornell ice plant and the North Oak st. plant. The Hornell plant has been owned by the company for several years. Officials of the City Ice & Fuel Co. stated today.

The newly acquired plant will be operated as a unit of the Columbus division. It was stated today.

Smith who has previously been connected with the plant will represent the company as manager. Officials stated today that there would be no change in policy or price.

The City Ice & Fuel Co. operates 108 ice plants in widely separated sections of the country.

No Change Now
For the present at least there will be no change in the management of the limestone quarry which has been taken over by the Indiana firm. It was stated today.

The new owners of the quarry operate nine limestone plants in central Ohio.

Marion became the temporary home of about 35 members of the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Orphans Home band when the big Garford bus in which it was enroute to Sandusky became stranded this morning in the middle of the 'Bridge of Sighs' as the wooden crossing at Main and Center st. has become known.

The band was enroute from Seattle to the Soldiers and Sailors' home at Sandusky where it will help defray the new G. A. R. bandstand Saturday night. Early Sunday morning the band will move on to Indiana where it will furnish music for the G. A. R. convention being held at that city the first of next week.

The big bus which was coming east on Center st. slowed down prior to making the turn over the bridge which was erected by the C. D. & M. Electric Co. while installing new track. It had gotten about half way across the wooden crossing when the transmission hit the highest place of the crossing and was broken in two.

It was necessary to send to Lima to get a new transmission. The bus will probably be held up for about two days. The damage was estimated at around $100.

The bus was taken to the Albert Brothers' garage where it will be kept until repairs are made. The band will probably be sent by either train or bus to Sandusky for the concert Saturday.

HEAVY DRAIN ON GAS

Craft Sends Radiogram to Boat That Everything
Is "All O. K."

An airplane approached today the sight of the Yellow Bird to Paris had reached the summit stage. One fact remains definitely established. Whether still in the air or on the surface of the sea, the French fliers are somewhere near the coast of Europe.

At 2:05 p. m.—The twenty-eighth hour of the flight—the Yellow Bird should have been over Portland or somewhere between 1,000 and 1,200 miles from its destination, provided, of course, it succeeded in maintaining its average speed of 100 miles an hour.

At 2:07 p. m.—The Yellow Bird, somewhat off the course appeared to be approaching the coast of Spain.

An Intermountain News Service dispatch from the Monterey, N. M., station of the Monterey station, was dispatching that the plane passed over his ship 110 miles west of the Azores at 1 p. m. eastern daylight savings time.

Meanwhile another International News Service dispatch from Paris told of a rumor in the French capital which had the Yellow Bird, an airplane forced down somewhere off the coast of Portugal. This report was paid daily without verification by Lisbon and other Portuguese towns having no news whatever of the fliers.

And shortly after 2 o'clock eastern daylight time the steamship the De France reported receiving a radio from the Yellow Bird stating "1000 miles west of Azores" 10:00 hour and position were not given.

PARIS, June 11.—The Yellow Bird was approximately 1,000 miles north of the Azores at 1 o'clock this afternoon (8 a. m. New York daylight saving time) according to Armand Lott, who announced he had received a radiogram from the monoplane.

Lott, whose son promoted the flight and is one of the three fliers in the plane, notified L. Bourget held that his wireless message gave the location of the Yellow Bird as 20 longitudes and 12 latitudes at 1 o'clock.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon the government weather bureau forecast that the fliers would be favored by a tall wind that there were indications of stormy weather off the coast, through which the plane would have to travel.

At that time the Yellow Bird had completed approximately two-thirds of the "water jump."

Loyal, Azores, which lies due south of the reported position of the air men is about 2,100 miles from Old Orchard, Me.

An expert estimated that Aviator Jean Assolant and his companions could do better than 300 miles an hour and that they might reach Le Bourget field about 1 a. m. Saturday morning Paris time, or 8 o'clock, tonight New York daylight saving time.

MT. VICTORY WOMAN AWARDED VERDICT

Marion County Jury Gives Plaintiff $14,000 in Death
of Husband

RENTON, June 14.—Returning a verdict for the plaintiff in the $50,000 damage case of Mrs. Leona Fittro, the jury at the Marion County court house today afternoon directed the plaintiff to pay damages in the amount of $14,000 in the death of her husband. The jury also directed a verdict dismissing the defendant's claim for damages.

The case was reached by the jury after an hour's deliberation. Motion for a new trial has been filed by attorneys for the Ohio Power company and in event this is denied the case will be appealed to the court of appeals, attorneys announced.

Conceivable interest was stirred by the trial and a crowded courtroom heard the verdict.

The case grew out of the death by electrocution of Fred Fittro, Mt. Victory plumber, last summer when he was in contact with a high tension wire that had been knocked down in an automobile accident near Mt. Victory. Shortly before his death G. Paul Johnson, Keaton, was electrocuted when he went to the aid of Fittro in the mishap. The accident occurred while Fittro was wiring the scene of the tragedy.

In her suit the plaintiff asserted that negligence on the part of the company to turn off the current until the wires were repaired, was responsible for the death of her husband.

Jurors who heard the case were Edward Rose, Edward Pfeiffer, Roy Pool, James Burdison, C. F. Nash, Philip Unepaper, F. J. Dittus, J. W. Ward, John Mullins, I. N. Roby, John Smith and J. V. Conner.

SHELL MOTOR OIL WEEK
June 16-22, Inclusive
"Ask the Shell Man"

You don't eliminate carbon by silencing a carbon knock

Of course, a carbon knock can be completely muffled by the use of special motor fuels. But concealing a danger signal never removes the danger.

The danger of carbon is not the knock, but pitted valves and "frozen" piston rings, with resulting loss of power. Then, too, carbon forms on the underside of the piston head. When this carbon is hard and flinty, as is usually the case, it chips off in tiny, gritty particles which drop into the crank-case oil.

Thousands of motorists have learned that it is far better to check carbon than to silence the knock. They have discovered that one oil—Shell Motor Oil—stops carbon before it starts.

As a consequence, these regular users of Shell Motor Oil report a marked reduction in carbon removal jobs. This is so because Shell Motor Oil forms only a negligible amount of carbon. Laboratory tests show it, and experience proves it true.

And the little carbon which forms in a motor lubricated by Shell Motor Oil is soft, fluffy, non-fouling... does not bake on metal surfaces, but actually blows away with the exhaust gases. This is especially important in the modern high-compression engine with its small combustion chambers.

In addition to a low carbon content of a harmless, fluffy nature, Shell Motor Oil has ideal body at all operating temperatures and a low pour point to help make starting easy in cold weather.

This combination of all the essentials of complete and proper lubrication is due to two things: the selection of the crude which forms the base of Shell Motor Oil, and the refining process which prepares this crude for use.

Shell crude comes from hand-picked wells. It is refined by the new Shell-developed, low-temperature process... never scorched, never weakened by the high temperatures of ordinary refinery practice. Before Shell Motor Oil is shipped, it must pass 259 tests in order to check and certify the rich, unvarying quality of every quart.

STOP AT THE SIGN OF THE SHELL—And let the Shell Lubrication Chart be your guide. You'll find courteous salesmen at the familiar yellow and red service stations. Convenient everywhere.

To the man who drives a high-compression engine—we say:
"Try Shell for 30 days!"

Even a thin layer of carbon must not be allowed to accumulate in the most combustion chambers of a high-compression engine. The small amount and the non-fouling character of the carbon in Shell Motor Oil, make this ideal for these new-type cars.

400 "Extra Dry" Shell Gasoline is on hand, clean-burning, does nothing more but that is clean quality without extra price.

Water Company Manager Says Responsible Parties Should Repair Streets

There is one job of street repair under way but that was started for today some time ago. George Whysall, manager of the Marion Water Co., said today when asked if any action had been taken following the dispatch of a letter from the city council to the New York office of the water company, charging Whysall with being careless in allowing the streets to become in bad condition. This work is on South Main at about mid-way between Center and Church sts.

Daily Proverb—"Tis not your posterity,

There's a report that the lieutenant governor of Idaho has been kidnapped, but we utterly refuse to believe that the Hon. Mr.
Borah would permit a thing like that in his state.

Another Chicago companionate marriage
has gone on to the rocks, the alleged trouble being that the husband, so termed, was inclined too often to show his companionate spirit by beating up his so-called wife.

Married men who maintain women not their wives together with their mistresses are now being sentenced to rock piles. So this is the Paris of today! What a metamorphosis from what we have read about her.

A citizen of La Clair, Iowa, is dead as the result of a woodtick bite. Such things happen, but the victim's blood stream can hardly be held to be in ideal condition when a fatality results from such a cause.

Senator Cole Blaise, of South Carolina, says he is "in favor of putting woman back on the pedestal." If Coleman ever tackles the job he will probably find her inclined to kick the pedestal over.

Two dry enforcers who killed a moon-shiner near Louisville were not only convicted a federal court, but the court also denied them a new trial. If the exceptional makes the news, here we have a real news item.

Mr. Coolidge received $70 in gold for his day's work, recently, in presiding over the meeting of the agency committee of the insurance company with which he is associated. Pulling down practically two months' house rent for one day's work. We'll tell the world that Mr. Coolidge is doing pretty well with his "side" lines.

Paris advises us to the effect that Prince Louis of Bourbon has decided that he would like more than an allowance of $1,000 for pocket money should he marry Mrs. Mabelle Gillman Corey. Till, till, Mabelle! Come across! Don't be a tightwad!

Pondering in answer to the proposal that the Wisconsin legislature petition the government to keep dry agents out of that state, dry enforcers raided the capital of the state and caught what is claimed to be the favorite drugstore of the legislative tipplers. There's no getting away from the fact legislators with a penchant for booze have been playing in mighty hard luck, of late, all over the country.

From Chicago women paid fines aggregating $27,035 on goods purchased by them abroad which they neglected to declare upon landing in New York. At the present rate of contributions to the public treasury, who's the occasion to worry about the paying 3¢ of our national debt?

Twenty-five minutes after the case of a woman of Montpelier, Quebec, and her paramour, charged with the poisoning of the woman's husband, went to the jury, the two were found guilty and sentenced to be hanged August 23. There's a reason why the percentage of crime in Canada is low compared with that here in the United States.

A Beautiful Memorial.

The photographs sections of Sunday's New York papers showed splendid views of the great monument recently completed in the park of Ylvenoune l'Etang near St. Cloud, France, the hilltop city just across the Seine from the great park of Paris, the Bois de Boulogne, to the memory of the 210 members of the La Fayette escadrille, sixty-eight of whom were killed in the World war.

The inscription over the great arch in the center of the monument, very fittingly in English, reads:

IN MEMORY
OF THE HEROES
OF THE ESCADRILLE LA FAYETTE WHO LIVED IN DEFENSE OF RIGHT AND LIBERTY.

Under a great cross in one of the ante-chambers of the great circular crypt in which the remains of the sixty-eight dead rest is another inscription in English reading:

THE DEAD OF THE ESCADRILLE LA FAYETTE
ARE COMMEMORATED IN THIS CRYPT
THEY FACED DEATH WILLINGLY
FOR THE CAUSE THEY ESPOUSED
THEY REST IN THE SOIL THEY DEFENDED

Many memorials have been erected to the dead of the World war, but perhaps none more strikingly imposing, and certainly none of greater architectural beauty, than this in the park of St. Cloud.

It is a matter for regret that its architect, Alexander Marcel, did not live to see it in the completed beauty of its surroundings.
He died, just five days before his beautiful work was thrown open to the public.

Merely a Subject for Talk.

Some time ago, writing in regard to the out-repeated references to the great possibilities for water-power development in this country, we expressed the opinion that there never would be anything like the development some held out as a probability of the near future and that, were there even a measure of the great development held out as possible, it would not accomplish anything like the results anticipated from it.

We explained our view by saying that water-power plants could seldom be constructed where there was demand for the power they harnessed, and that the materials from which they made finished products had to be transported to them and their products transported away, or their power be converted into electricity and carried over wires or cables to the points at which it could be used.
In the latter event, we pointed out, the cost of construction and maintenance both of the plant and transmission system would prove considerable, especially so as there is great leakage in electricity carried beyond certain limits, making its transmission unprofitable.

Having written about the line indicated,
two articles we have since come upon were very pleasing to us. One was an interview published in the Saturday Evening Post in which Thomas A. Edison was quoted as saying, in part:

"We shall steadily require more power, but a great deal more fuss is being made over hydro-electric power than its intrinsic value
warrants."

"Water power is a political issue, not a business one. It can never at the best mean very much to us except as something to talk about. The monopolizing of water power is also just a political idea. The rates are fixed at any point by the cost of generating power from steam. A private monopoly which was foolish enough to put in high rates would only bankrupt itself, for no one would buy the power. There is far more danger in public monopoly than there is in private monopoly, for when the government goes into business it can always shift its losses to the taxpayers. If it goes into the power business, it can pretend to sell cheap power and then
cover up its losses."

"The other utterance was an editorial in the Portland Oregonian by way of comment on the Edison interview in the Saturday Evening Post, which, in part, read as follows:
"Edison said much in little. Water power is not invariably cheaper than other power, which is contrary to the public impression that falling water costs nothing, nature doing the work. To dam the water, to conduct it to the point where the fall can be utilized, to build the electric generating plant, the transmission line and the distributing system in the consuming centers costs many millions. By the time the energy reaches the consumer, water power has cost much more than nothing, so much more that many steam generating plants are built where water power is available, and there is constant competition between water and steam."

Were our broad domain an enlarged cross section of little Switzerland, had we high snow-capped mountains here, there and everywhere, from which swift streams coursed through comparatively narrow valleys, we as individuals might make direct use of water power as do the Swiss. All we would have to do would be to run conduits from a swift stream through a turbine and have power at hand, but had we dozens of mountain ranges for over one we have, water-power development for the country as a whole would still be a dream. Our country is too broad and too nearly flat in its thickly-peopled sections and our distances are too great to make water power more than what Mr. Edison has denominated it—a political issue; something concerning which the politicians can talk.

An airplane crashed through the roof of the home of the governor of New Jersey at Saugir, Tuesday night, and lodged in the ceiling of his bedroom. We may anticipate some legislation in New Jersey in the very near future looking to the penalizing of fliers who pass over population centers, and it wouldn't be a half bad scheme should legislation of that kind be enacted to cover all municipalities in the country.

It has been said that "nobody loves a fat man," but it will hardly apply to the cases of fat men in the famine-stricken districts of China. If reports from there are to be credited, wholesale cannibalism is said to be common, and the skinny inhabitants are the last thing. Another phase of the aftermath of soviet Russia's attempt to propogate
the communist brand of "Liberty and Equality" in China.

And talking about news items, here we note that the Erie railroad, for the first time since 1907, will pay a dividend on its preferred stock this year, and promises to pay a dividend on its common stock as well next year. And it wasn't so very long ago that Erie stock could have been bought for a song,
as the expression goes.

The New York supreme court has refused to dismiss the $200,000 libel proceeding of Mrs. Mary Arnold Lewisohn, the author, against the publishing house of Harper & Brothers and Ludwig Lewisohn growing out of references to her in her former husband's book, "Mid-Channel." In the event of a judgment for the plaintiff, publishing houses probably will be a trifle more careful about letting writers traduce the living in their productions, no matter what liberties they may be permitted to take with the reputations
of the dead.

Thirty-one communists up for trial in Meerut, India, were wildly cheered by their companion reds when they were brought in to face the magistrate assigned to the investigating of their revolutionary activities.
India is far away, but the same influences at work there are being employed here in the United States for the overthrowing of our government.

UNCLE SAM: "JUST CALL ME WHEN YOU WANT ME."

Prompt Care in Peritonitis.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

I am not sure that I ever told you anything about peritonitis. Fortunately it is not a common ailment. But it is too important to overlook. To be frank about it, acute peritonitis is always a serious disturbance.

All the cavities of the body are lined with a delicate membrane. The abdominal cavity is no exception. In this region the lining membrane is called the peritoneum.

This delicate structure covers the inner side of the abdominal wall. Likewise, it is reflected upon the intestines and all the organs in the abdomen.
There is enough moisture to lubricate the surface of the peritoneum so that all the movements of the organs within the abdomen are made without friction.
They move freely one upon another.

The peritoneum is normally a thin, glistening membrane. It may aptly be compared to a coat of varnish applied to the inner aspect of the abdominal wall and to the surface of the contained viscera.

Like every other part of the body, the peritoneum may become inflamed. This is the condition which may be general or it may be confined to limited portions of the peritoneum.

In peritonitis, no matter what its cause, severe pain in the abdomen and tenderness to the lightest touch are prominent symptoms. Instinctively the victim lies on his back with his legs drawn up.
He takes this position in order to relieve the pulling of the muscles upon the sensitive abdomen.

For the same reason the breathing is shallow.
Every effort is made to keep from moving the abdominal muscles and aggravating the pain.

These are the signs of a general peritonitis. If the inflammation is definitely localized, the pain and tenderness and tenderness of the muscles are not so prominent.

The patient has fever. The pulse is rapid. In every way the symptoms indicate illness.

There are a good many causes for peritonitis.
Needless to say, a perforating wound of the abdominal wall is very likely to cause inflammation. It follows rupture of the pus-filled appendix or of the gall bladder. Certain female ailments may produce peritonitis as an accompaniment.

Once in a while this disease may accompany
some of the infectious or contagious diseases.
Blood-poisoning has as a symptom.

If there is a pus-forming inflammation of the stomach, bowels, gall bladder or womb, peritonitis
may follow. An ulcer of the stomach or intestine which results in perforation, produces peritonitis.

Usually there is great swelling of the abdomen.
It becomes quite like a small balloon. Likewise there is a drum-like rigidity of the abdominal muscles.

If you have any reason to suspect that a member of your household has peritonitis, you should call the physician at once. The patient should be kept propped up in bed with the legs drawn up and the shoulders raised. Perfect quiet should be maintained until the doctor comes.

Editorial Opinion.

A GALLANT COMPANY.

Two Americans will pass each other in mid-Atlantic this week—Charles G. Dawes and Owen
D. Young—whose names will illumine a bright page in the history of their day. General Dawes is enroute to his ambassadorial post at London and Mr. Young is on his way home, laurel-crowned, from the reparations conference at Paris. Six years ago Messrs. Dawes and Young collaborated in laying the foundations of the reparations settlement. From it emerged the Dawes plan. Last week the Dawes plan, revised, gave way to the Young plan.

It is a gallant company, larger than most of their compatriots realize, which is headed by these two outstanding reconstructors of a war-maimed Europe. Afoot from the specific maladies which were bred by the armistice and the Versailles treaty, it yet felt to disinterested America's lot to supply the physicians who were to heal them. It is hardly going too far to say that without the detailed services which General Dawes and his colleagues rendered on the first reparations conference in 1923, Europe would never have worked out of the chaos there menacing it. With General Dawes and Mr. Young, on that occasion, served Henry M. Robinson, of Los Angeles, and Leonard
P. Ayres, of Cleveland. They formed a potent quartet.

During the recent conference of creditor and debtor experts, under Mr. Young's chairmanship, three other prizes of American shoulders were valiantly put in to help—those of J. P. Morgan, Thomas W. Lamont and Thomas N. Perkins. In the final stages of long-drawn-out negotiations, a fourth American played an effective role, David Sarnoff, the genius of the radio industry. It is reliably reported that his liaison work between
Mr. Young and Dr. Schacht, the astute German Reichsbank president, served in large measure to save the day when it looked the darkest.

A couple of years ago Jeremiah Smith, Jr., of Boston, functioning on behalf of the League of Nations, accomplished the financial reconstruction of Hungary. It was a Herculean task brilliantly performed. Since 1925 S. Parker Gilbert, Jr., fresh from the undersecretaryship of the United States treasury, has been agent general for reparations at Berlin. If the Dawes plan operated smoothly till the moment was ripe to supplant it with the Young plan, Mr. Gilbert is entitled to the lion's share of the credit.

At Warsaw, Charles S. Dawes, of Chicago, also an alumnus of Mr. Mellon's institution for the higher finance, is now fruitfully engaged in putting Poland's national economy on a sound basis. On the other side of the globe, Edwin W. Kemmerer, of Princeton university, is helping the young government of Nationalist China to put its financial house in order.

So it goes throughout the world. Who shall say that it is a world from whose embrace Uncle Sam has selfishly isolated himself? With his sons rendering the valiant service which these men—and their names by no means exhaust the list—
are giving to peoples and governments which crave
the constructive American touch, it can not be maintained that the United States is playing a lone hand on God's footstool. It is, on the contrary, playing a very busy hand, and a hand distinguished for efficient altruism.—Washington Star, June 10.

Master Gabriel, a talented theatrical mid-brief stay in the star role of a theatrical drama. It had a Coney Island slide show background and revealed the pathos of a midgelet's unrequited love. But what provided a first night novelty was the collection of the star's fellow midgelets. They squirmed out of taxicabs in full dress, toppers and swaying diminutive canes. It was a surprising illustration of how many Lilliputian players there are in the metropolises.

New York has occasional skyscraper sudden epidemics. For some reason they run in threes. Psychologists say they are inspired by suggestion. Some one ends it all in a mad leap from a window or rooftop and those who have been lacking courage read the headlines and are nerved to follow suit. These spectacular jumps for some reason are the favorite method of the rich. In twelve months, there is a record of eight wealthy dependants
adopting this method.

Regarding Gas Cards.

Editor Star: I notice that the Logan Gas company has now issued to its customers a new gas card. Some time ago it made a change in the cards by eliminating the rates for the gas, thus depriving them of the opportunity of figuring up their own gas bills. This action, I think, is unfair to patrons, who, by reading their own meter and having the rates at hand, gave them a chance to check up on their gas bills. In case of a mistake, which happens to everybody occasionally, it made it possible for the consumer to discover the error, otherwise, as it now is, he has no chance without making a special trip to the gas office. This I think is unfair to the consumer. The Gas company should be considerate and obliging enough to those who give it their patronage to grant them this privilege. It would be giving the people a fair deal. I wish to be fair with the company and ask it to be fair with us.

To the Stars with an Opera Glass.

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS.

Forty-five years ago I had just finished my little survey of the starry heavens with an opera-glass in preparation for my first book, which, with a fatherly thrill, I still perceive on its tiny bicycle, threading the crowded highway of popular favor, not yet quite lost in the dust of the passing limousines, carrying the big best sellers.

I am reminded of it by just having noticed that the same constellations, which form the subject of the opening chapters of "Astronomy with an Opera-Glass" are now again making their annual entry in the celestial parade that finds the world perpetually renewing its youth.

So, I have taken out my old opera-glass—
a rare treasure that I found in a Chatham street pawnshop before Chatham street had suffered the aidemantic theft of its historic name—in order to see what it was that charmed me half a century ago into book writings about the heavens. I will tell the reader about some of these things if he will take his own opera-glass, or a very small pocket telescope, and follow me.

WITH EDNA S. DUTTON

CLOTHES do not make the man in the Minnesota logging camp, "Your Good for Nothing," dedicated to the story of a man who goes to the city for Christmas shopping.

The author has gone to Canada for his background and it is in a little Canadian village where Pierre Bourcier, "Your Good for Nothing," is reared; it is from the village Pierre goes to war only to return and find his mother dead and from where he sets out to find his father, in keeping with a promise made his mother. After revealing his identity to his father Pierre drifts to the logging camp in which the former holds a partnership and it is here he makes the acquaintance of Peggy Truman, daughter of his father's partner.

Pierre, thanks to the education he has received through his mother, is above the average lumber jack but only reveals his knowledge of literature and music when his enthusiastic love of both causes him to forget himself for the moment.

Perry is a refreshing type of young womanhood, not given to subtle tricks and possessing a wholesome ability of judging character. An interesting character study is Peter Harrington, father of Pierre, who is never able to find his wife whom he married in Canada and to whom his life of devotion is revealed after his death in a bequest of beautiful jewels which he had always hoped would be hers.

There is a villain in the plot, Cleve Richards, Harrington's nephew, and then there are villains whom he has to carry out his villainous plots.

The elder Peter Harrington dies shortly after meeting with his son and before he can make a new will, leaving his life partner Jim Truman without any legal right to his share of the business which the two have built. If it were not for Pierre, Cleve would be the rightful heir to the business and the latter sets about to rid the camp of the happy Canadian.

After a tour abroad Perry decides to spend some time at the logging camp with her father and the romance with Pierre begins when the Canadian finds her after she is lost in the forest. A dramatic point in the story is reached when Pierre follows Perry to the city to say goodbye because he is not of her world.

How Pierre saves the day when all the horses in the camp become ill and the villainy of Cleve is discovered make a thrilling end to the well written and entertaining novel.

"Mimi Bluetie,"

Italian Lulu Belle

GUIDE DA VARONA has drawn lively pictures of types of people in Paris limelight from the very vulgar producers and stage types that have come in from the provinces to the rather more winsome artists and people, in his "Mimi Bluetie," a sophisticated story of love and adventure in the Bohemia of two countries, Italy and France.

It is a colorful world that peoples his book; the riff raff of the theatrical world are there and the failures in the Bohemia, as well as the successes, commercial and artistic; there is the Cabinet minister, who is Mimi's "protector," and there is Laine, man of mystery whom the police shadow but do not arrest. There is Mimi's old harridan of a mother, common as pig tracks but entertaining and amusing.

Mimi herself is a sort of Italian Lulu Belle who creates a sensation in the Paris theatre. She is seen as realistically as Lulu Belle was. She is both charming and as mercenary as real and as melodramatic as was the

BY BOB

FAIRFIELD Engineers, joined the ranks of the defeated in yesterday's games of the Industrial League and now the loop is all tied up like the proverbial Gordian knot. Erie Roundhouse pulled the trick by getting two runs in the last of the seventh and sending Bob Gamble down to his first defeat of the year in eight starts by a 3-to-2 score.

Osgood made it a three-way tie for first place by losing to the Shovel Club, 7 to 5. The Roundhouse, Fairfield and Osgood all have won four games and lost one in five played.

Gamble apparently had won his eighth victory of the year as the Roundhouse came to the bat in the seventh frame but his own wildness and an unexcusable error in left field lost the game. Fairfield had taken a 2-to-1 lead in the last half of the seventh when with two out Shoup and Harmon walked and the former scored on an infield error.

The game looked fairly safe as the three tall and lanky men of the Erie nine were on deck for the last inning. Richards however opened with a long double and then Gamble filled the bases by walking Wilson and Snyder. Another walk forced in the tying run and with two out, Glen Pate hit an easy fly to Shoup in left field that he muffed miserably and the game was over.

Four runs in the fourth inning staked Osgood to his win over the Shovel Club. The winners scored three in the third and two in the last frame but couldn't do a thing by Trimble in the other five innings. Only 16 men faced Trimble in the first, second, fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

Trimble, looking for the Hocking Valley, won his third start in as many days by blanking the C. D. & M., 3 to 0. It was the Erie's fourth defeat in five starts and placed them in a tie for the cellar with Hibber. Gamble was especially effective in the pitcher and the winners three runs looked as good as a million when the seventh inning rolled around.

They took the first win of the season by defeating the Erie Yardman, 5 to 1. The losers came near to spoiling a good pitching performance by Trimble by scoring three runs in the seventh inning. The winning run was on base when Gamble came in but in the seventh but he was not equal to the task.

The summaries:
Yardman 000 100 3-4
Hibber 210 200 0-5
Hocking and Bollen; Trimble and Willoughby.

7,000 Pounds Daily Quota of Lime Sludge Removed From City Water Supply

Disposal of Waste Compound Will Provide Problem For Marion Softening Plant in Few Years, Has Value as Fertilizer, Plaster

Nearly 7,000 pounds of lime sludge are removed from the 1,000,000 gallon of water used daily by the city of Marion. The lime content of the water being settled out by chemical means, according to Charles Whysall, city chemist and operator of the water softening plant located on Campbell st. northwest of Marion.

The softening plant was placed in operation in March 1928. Prior to that time water officials estimated that Marion drank and otherwise used a considerable quantity of lime, as well as other chemical content which is also removed at the softening plant.

The water running in subterranean rivers under Marion passes through almost pure limestone. Mr. Whysall said it is responsible for the high content of lime in the water. All cities are not obliged to thus treat their water.

Iron Taken Out

Iron and other chemicals in the water formerly collected in the lines raising the water to be considerably discolored when the hydrates were used, have been removed by means of chemical treatment. However, Whysall said, a large quantity of this lime is collected in the pipes before the plant was installed here and is still being used when by drains is used. It is a matter of a few minutes where it was a matter of hours before water became clear and it is a matter of a few minutes.

Disposal of the daily 7,000 pounds of lime sludge, which in fact amounts to about 9,000 pounds with the water that is drawn off each day will present a problem to the local plant in a few years. Mr. Whysall stated. At the present, two large excavations near the plant are satisfactorily taking care of the sludge, but this will be all to accommodate but a few years' supply.

Old Reservoir Land One of the plots into which it is now being drained is the reservoir for the former water plant of Marion. This has been replaced by a concrete reservoir. The other plot was made by widening of the old Chicago and Erie railroad about 10 years ago, to secure more for rail beds.

From the local purifying tank, the water is placed in a smaller tank and carbon dioxide gas is bubbled through it. This gas, taken from burning charcoal, is the same as is used under pressure at a fountain to give water a fizz. It is added to the city water in small quantities to prevent any scum forming on the inside of kettles or other containers in which water is boiled. The flow of this gas is carefully regulated tests being made every two hours. If too much of the gas was used the water would fizz.

Stored for City Use

From this last tank the water flows to a 1,000,000 gallon tank where it is pumped to the city as needed. In this last tank the water is very clear with a slight bluish color.

In the different purifying tanks the collecting tank and final storage tank, there are 8,375,000 gallons of water at all times. Insuring an adequate supply in the case of the failure of any pump. A three month supply of chemicals is constantly stored at the plant to carry over in the event of a railroad strike, or temporary scarcity.

For those who would delve a little deeper into the chemical reaction of the lime and soda ash treatment of the water, Mr. Whysall explains that 7,000 pounds of lime and 100 pounds of soda ash are used to treat each 1,000,000 gallons of water. The soda ash chemically unites with the calcium and magnesium sulphates while the lime takes out the calcium and magnesium carbonates and some of the iron.

Visitors are welcome at the plant. Mr. Whysall said, and there is always someone to take them through and explain the various steps in the softening process.

The lime would be excellent for use as fertilizer if an economical method of removing the water in it could be devised. Mr. Whysall said. Thus as yet has not been done but is being considered by water company officials. Another use it properly dried would be in the manufacture of prepared plaster. However, the commercial value of the lime would not permit the use of an expensive drying process.

Twelve wells supply Marion's supply of water. These are operated by many pumps which bring the water to the surface from depths ranging from 110 to 225 feet. The water runs in exposed wooden troughs which utilize a part of the iron content of the water and also aerates the flow for the removal of gases.

Fanks Hold 137,500 Gallons The water runs in the wood troughs to the concrete raw water collecting tank of 1,000,000 gallon capacity which catches the flow of the 12 wells. From here the water is pumped through a meter to large mixing tanks where the correct amount of chemical lime and soda ash are added and thoroughly mixed with the water by motor driven paddles. Each of the two mixing tanks has a capacity of 1,000,000 gallons.

From this tank the water is carried in pipes to an immense 2,000,000 gallon tank 24 feet high and 120 feet in diameter. It is in this tank that nearly all the lime and soda ash are used. Large motor driven rakes revolving four times an hour gradually force the sludge out of the tank and allow the clarified water to overflow into a rim around the outside edge of the tank. It passes from here to another similar tank, the same size. Here the remaining impurities estimated to be about 5 per cent of the amount removed settles out.

American Waterworks Drops
11 Points Under Profit-Taking

By W. S. CUMMINS
I. N. S. Financial Editor

NEW YORK, June 14.—Trading in the stock market today resolved itself into a fierce tug of war between the bulls and the bears, mostly in the professional ranks. The broad upward swing of prices in the last two days has finally scared the bears into covering the stocks in which they have had large short lines ever since the first part of May, and in which huge paper profits have been realized. This was Wall Street's explanation of the heavy trading in the copper, mail order stocks and specialties today.

More than a million and a half shares changed hands up to the noon period, which was at the rate of 3,000,000 shares for the full session. The rest of the professionals roamed around the floor of the big board, giving a whirl first to the utilities, then to the steel and oil, returning in the early afternoon to the rails, where the volume of stock overhauling the market was small. While American Waterworks fell back about 11 points to 131½, in profit-taking, the bulk of the utility stocks gave a better account of themselves. Consolidated Gas moved along to 110½; Standard Gas and North American reached new peaks at 110 and 110½, respectively. Public Service and Electric Light and Power sold higher. Columbia Gas and Electric dropped back about five points.

Today in Marion Markets

Groceries, Produce, Meats, Grain, Livestock

The day of 1935 prices is nearly over. The 20 are coming next week, but at prices that are yet too distant to be seen. The last of the old crop is now selling on Marion markets.

Wholesale are about the only variety of apples that have been in demand through the entire winter and spring months. They are a good eating variety and are much used for fruit salads, etc. They have been selling at two pounds for 25 cents, and they will probably close next week.

Transparents probably will be the first new apples to make their appearance here. A few of these are already on the larger markets, but at prices that are exorbitant for smaller cities. Also, they are said by grocers to be rather green and small.

Imported berries from other states are rapidly losing out here in favor of the home grown. Marion county strawberries, which have recently dropped another nickel from their price, bring them in 20 cents a quart. A few of the other varieties remain available at lower prices.

Red raspberries, which opened at 10 cents a pint here a week ago, can now be bought for 85 cents a pint.

Railroad Connections At Mt. Gilead To Be Completed Soon

WILL ABANDON OLD T. & O. C. STATION

Plan New Schedule To Be In Operation by July 1

GANG AT WORK

Passenger Trains Will Run to Station in Business Section

MT. GILEAD, June 14—A special section gang of 25 men, under the supervision of Fred Hollister, is now working at the intersection of the shortline and T. & O. C. railroads, in the west end of Mt. Gilead, connecting the shortline to the main line of the T. & O. C. so that it will be possible to run the passenger trains and local to the station, formerly owned by the Big Four railroad, near the business section of town.

The gang came here from Bucyrus June 11 and expect to stay until the main line switches are installed at the connection of the two lines. This work is expected to be completed this week. After the main switches are installed the gang will go to Marietta for special work and the local section gang will complete the work of laying 30-pound rails from the intersection of the two lines to the new depot which is a stretch nearly two miles in length.

This work is being rushed by the officials of the railroad so that it will be possible to start the new operation by July 1.

After this time the old T. & O. C. depot will be abandoned and it is thought that its agent, M. M. Thompson, will be transferred to the new station. After everything has been taken from the building it will be dismantled and moved according to the plans of the officials.

There will be passenger and freight service from the new depot each direction daily. A change in the freight schedule will be made if the officials change the southern terminal for the local from Fulton to Mt. Gilead which it is thought they will possibly do after the improvement is made.

I want to help every boy or girl who stammers

By Benjamin N. Bogue

Few MEN AND WOMEN in this life are cursed as those who stammer. I know! For nearly twenty years I stammered as badly as anyone ever will.

I went to school and the boys teased me. How they did make fun of me! How I trembled when the teacher asked me to recite! How I hated myself because I was not like other boys! No one knows the agony I suffered!

One day I finally got a job running an elevator. I thought I could do it without talking. But the passengers asked me questions and when I did not answer—because I could not get the words out—I was fired. I did not blame the boss. Other jobs I had—and soon lost.

My father and grandfather had stammered. They thought I would outgrow it—although they had not! Neither did I. The affliction became worse. Then I grew more determined that I would find a cure. I was normal in every other way. Why did not my brain and tongue work together so that I could express my thoughts? I could sing. I could talk to the cows in the pasture. But before people I was in misery.

I took medicine. I followed every will-o'-the-wisp to find relief. But none came until I found the cause and set about correcting the defect in my own articulation. Then I cured myself. Today I conduct a business in Indianapolis, chat with my friends freely and without a trace of stammering.

I would like to make you happy, too, if you stammer or stutter. I have cured thousands. I will not give you treatment, after examination, unless I am sure I can cure you—with your determined assistance. I use no drugs, no knife. The cause is too deep for such measures.

Let me send you a book which tells in detail what I suffered, what I discovered. I am asking ten cents to cover the postage. But send for it before you mislay the coupon below. It may open the door of freedom to you.

Bogue Institute of Stammerers, 12150 Bogue Building, 1117 North Illinois Street, Indianapolis, Ind.

Enclosed is 10 cents for your book on Stammering and Stuttering: The Cause and Cure.

SMART FLARE AND SNUG HIP

THE STYLE No. 2747 is interpreted in caprine tones in geometric print, and is a real favorite because of its smooth fit through the hips and delightful flared skirt, which suggests the fashionable Princess mode. The long-waisted bodice has shirring at each shoulder which gives a nice fullness through the bust. The deep V-neck collarless neckline is complemented by pleated jabot frill, which breaks the width through the bodice, and makes it so suitable for woman of average full figure. Plain silk crepe, shantung, rajah silk, georgette crepe and wool crepe also appropriate.

THE PATTERN designed in sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24 and 26 inches bust is explained in Picture Lessons, a most interesting method to help the amateur sewer, for it shows the entire construction of garment in course of operation. It is offered at cost price 15 cents (stamps or coin) as a service to readers who sew.

NEW FASHION BOOK containing all the latest styles is 15 cents, but may be obtained for 10 cents if ordered with a pattern.

The feature attraction of the program last night was an address by Charles W. Cookson, superintendent of the Urbana schools.

Mr. Cookson used "Human Engineering" as the topic for his talk and told of the wonderful perfection that had been attained in common engineering while all the penal institutions of the states are building wings on their buildings to take care of the overflow of inmates that are being sent there. He stated in his talk that this number had doubled in the last five years.

He criticized the parents of the country for this great number of criminals and feeble minded because it had been found that all these unfortunate have come from homes that have been broken either by death or by separation.

"There is a divine element in every boy and girl we must get out and get it to work" was a statement made by the speaker during his talk.

During the meeting several songs were sung by the members and guests. The songs were led by W. B. Johnston, president of the local club.

After the talk the group was entertained by E. J. Fanley, a magician from Columbus, who had just recently attended the International magicians meeting at Lima. Mr. Fanley entertained the members and their guests for nearly an hour with his many tricks and slight of hand performances.

Voting More Popular With Marion Women, Student's Survey of County Shows

Rural Members of Sex Fail To Take To Politics Readily, Poll of 1928 Discloses; Study Made by Ohio Wesleyan University Scholar

(Special to The Star)
 DELAWARE, June 14.—A Comprehensive Study of Men's and Women's Voting in Marion County in the 1928 election is the title of a study just completed here by William H. Whitely, a student in connection with his work in the Political Science at Ohio Wesleyan University.
 That the women of rural districts were not taken to voting as readily as the women of urban sections is one of the interesting conclusions at which the student has arrived.
 Statistics completed with the help of J. W. Kette, former election board chairman in Marion county show that 14,000 persons were registered in the city of Marion, 7,000 or 53.1 percent being men and 6,550 or 46.9 percent being women. These figures indicate that 24 percent more men registered than women.
 Votes in the election in the city of Marion numbered 18,117, of which 10,000 or 55.2 percent were men and 8,117 or 44.8 percent were women. These figures indicate that the men and women participated in the same proportion in the actual election and in the registration. Mr. Whitely points out. Thus, while 24 percent more men were registered than women, seven percent more men voted.
 In the districts in Marion county outside of the city of Marion 6,477 votes were cast, 3,550 or 54.8 percent being those of men and 2,927 or 45.2 percent being those of women. These figures indicate that 15.5 percent more men voted than women whereas in the city of Marion the difference was only seven percent.
 Taking the county as a whole Mr. Whitely found that 19,541 votes were cast, of which 10,553 percent were men's and 44.5 percent were women's.
 The number of women registered in nine precincts of the city of Marion exceeded the number of men, however. These precincts were 1A, 3C, 4B, 4H, 5B, 5C, 5D, 6C, 6F. The number of women voting exceeded the number of men voting in 13 city precincts. These precincts were 4H, 5B, 5D, 6C, 6F, 1B, 1D, 1F, 2D, 2F, 4E, 4G, 4H.
 In only one precinct outside the city of Marion did the number of women voting exceed the number of men. This district was Lakewood South where 107 women and only 58 men voted. In Lakewood the rate was a tie with 105 men and 105 women voting. Bowling Green West showed the great major-

French People At Le Bourget At Dawn To Wait For Flight

GREAT WELCOME IS PLANNED FOR TRIO

Public Excitement Reaches High Pitch as No Unfavorable News Is Heard

MAY ARRIVE TONIGHT

If Flight Is Successful Government Is Likely To Reinstate Sergeants

LE BOURGET, France, June 14.—The hitherto unparalleled enthusiasm which greeted the arrival of Col. Charles Lindbergh on this flying field after his trail-blazing flight across the Atlantic two years ago, was threatened with eclipse today as France prepared to welcome its nation's heroes. Armand Lott, dean Assolant and Rene Lefevre, bound for Le Bourget from Old Orchard, Maine.

As the hours passed with no unfavorable news of the daring attempt, in which the French aviators are trying to cut down Lindbergh's record for the ocean crossing, public excitement reached a high pitch, and if the three men land safely, the reception accorded them will be unprecedented in history.

From the early hours of the morning the administrative headquarters of Le Bourget was deluged with requests from persons interested in the progress of the flight, and the break of day saw a huge crowd already assembled at the field to await the arrival.

Bring Their Lunches

Many brought their lunches, prepared to stand about the entire day in the hope of greeting the three men personally. Almost every hour additional forces of police were assigned to strategic points on the field to keep the crowd in order.

If Lott, Assolant and Lefevre land safely, it goes without saying that they will be greeted as conquering heroes, for the French, ever an emotional race, have peered ever since Lindbergh flew the Atlantic that some daring aviator of French blood might eclipse, or at least equal his magnificent feat.

If all goes well, the "Yellow Bird" and its crew should arrive here late tonight or early tomorrow morning.

The three aviators are exceedingly popular with the French people. Assolant and Lefevre, known as the "old sergeants" of French aviation, are among France's best pilots. Lott, son of a wealthy Paris hotel owner, is an amateur pilot. Together, the three men have worked for more than a year to make the first French transatlantic flight.

Hugs Yellow Bird

Lott, who is 33, is the sponsor and financial backer of the attempt. Keeping in the background at first, he purchased the "Yellow Bird," one of the largest European ships, and outfitted it for a flight across the sea from Le Bourget.

Early last September, the expedition was ready. Twice in the early days of the month the three men made futile attempts to take off from Le Bourget. Their ship was heavily loaded. On Sept. 4, they finally started. Lott, still keeping in the background, was regarded as a slow-away.

May Change Plans

After the takeoff, the three intended to proceed to New York, but adverse winds drove them south over Spain and they decided to fly to Rio de Janeiro. The winds shifted again, and the aviators were trying to decide whether to make a long flight down the west coast of Africa or to cross to South America, when a heavy oil line forced them down at Casablanca, Morocco.

The belief was expressed here today that if the flight is successful, the French government probably will change its plans about disciplining Assolant and Lefevre. Opposing the flight because of the tremendously heavy load aboard the plane, the French air ministry compelled the two sergeants to resign from the army, but it is felt they will be reinstated if the flight ends successfully.

MAN AND WIFE DEAD OF POISON LIQUOR

Roomer at Columbus House Blind and Unable To Give Aid

COLUMBUS, June 14.—Poison liquor and a blind man's physical disabilities today are attributed as the causes for the deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Tor Peterson, who were found dead in their home here late yesterday.

Neighbors, becoming alarmed at the couple's non-appearance for more than two days, notified police.

A subsequent investigation revealed Mr. and Mrs. Peterson, aged 38 and 35, respectively, were dead. Coroner J. A. Murphy declared the deaths were due to poison liquor. He stated several empty liquor bottles were found in the residence. He said they had been dead for more than 30 hours.

A blind man rooms at the Peterson home.

Belief was expressed that if the man could have been able to see, the dual tragedy would have been averted, inasmuch as he could have summoned police during the court proceedings when he came close to collapse. He was convicted of first degree murder late yesterday and sentenced to death in the electric chair.

DAWES ARRIVES AT CHERBOURG, FRANCE

Newly-Appointed Ambassador Refuses to Speak of Diplomatic Affairs

CHERBOURG, France, June 14—Charles Gates Dawes, newly-appointed United States ambassador to England, arrived today on the liner Olympic enroute for London maintaining a diplomatic silence upon all Anglo-American matters.

A large group of reporters boarded the Olympic and bombarded Ambassador Dawes with questions. He was asked about Premier MacDonald's proposed visit to Washington, his own conference with Premier MacDonald on Sunday, disarmament and other questions, but refused to say a word.

There were times when the ambassador appeared to be ready to break through his diplomatic silence with some of his justly celebrated strong language, but he contented himself with: "I have nothing to say about that."

The ambassador did say, however, that one of the first things he will do when he finds time is to visit his old friend General Foch at Clermont Ferrand.

HILLSBORO, June 14—An estate valued at more than $1,150,000 has been bequeathed to the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, according to the will of the late S. P. Scott, wealthy local resident, on file in probate court here today.

Scott said the college had cured him of his fever several years ago. He left $75,000 to his wife and willed that the remainder of the estate, which may total $1,250,000 to the Philadelphia school.

Scott was recognized as an authority on Spanish law. He was also an author and historian.

MOVES TO DEFEAT DEATH IN CHAIR

Campbell's Attorney Believes Torch Slayer Will Not Live That Long

ELIZABETH, N. J., June 14—"Even if it is only by means of the natural death that is bound to come soon, we will defeat the electric chair."

This was the statement made today by Francis A. Gordon, youthful attorney, whose client, Henry Colin Campbell, was sentenced to die during the week of July 15 for the torch murder of his bigamous wife, Mrs. Mildred Mowry.

Immediately after Justice Clarence E. Case of the supreme court met out the sentence of death to the 60-year-old slayer, following the verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree reached by the jury after four hours' deliberation, Gordon laid his plans for an appeal to a higher court.

"The case will be taken before the court of errors and appeals," Gordon said. "This will automatically act as a stay of execution, for the court does not meet until the fall."

"If this court sustains the verdict, I will appeal to the court of pardons. No stone will be left unturned to prevent this broken, irresponsible man from going to his death in the electric chair."

Gordon said it was likely that the case will not be disposed of finally until after the first of next year. Medical men who have examined the murderer have expressed the opinion that the ravages of disease and drug addiction are almost certain to end his span of life before that time.

The unequivocal verdict of murder in the first degree came as a surprise to the huge crowd which jammed into every nook and corner of the tiny courtroom where the sordid details of the woman's murder were unfolded.

STAR ISLAND, N. H., June 14—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and his bride, sighted aboard their power cruiser Monette off here today, were believed to have seen the transatlantic Yellow Bird fly away from the Maine coast for Paris in an attempt to span the ocean somewhat as did the "Lone Eagle."

Stop Using a Truss

Free Demonstration

Stunt's Planno-Kels are different from the truss, being mechanical-chemo applicators made self-adhesive purposely to keep the herbal muscle-tonic called "PLAPAO" continuously applied to the affected parts, and to minimize danger of slipping and painful friction. The fabric is soft as velvet, and being adhesive, it clings to the body, without straps, buckles or springs. Easy to apply—comfortable—unexpensive. The epidermic absorption of the "PLAPAO" and the utilization of "plaster therapy", tend toward a natural process of recovery, after which no further use for a truss. During 23 years, thousands have successfully treated their ruptures at home, without delay from work. Awarded Gold Medal, Rome; Grand Prix, Paris; Honorable Mention, San Francisco, etc.

It costs you nothing to examine and have demonstrated to you privately, this scientific self-treatment for rupture, which so many others attest under oath freed them from the truss, and saved them from the knife.

AUTOS AND TALKIES HURT SMALL MOVIES

Number of Little Houses Fewer, Records of Last Three Years Show

By DAVID F. SENTNER
Marion Star Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 11.—Old Lady Statistika that elderly gal with the flexible corset, offers evidence to show that country people are going to the bigger towns for their motion picture shows.

Like the Little Red School House of yesterday, the small moving picture theaters in 1927 was 15,114 according to a survey conducted by the National Bureau of Economic Changes. A year later this number had decreased to 11,325 and in 1929 the number is progressively declining according to the survey.

One of the reasons submitted for this decrease in film theaters, despite an increase in film fare, is that the use of automobiles and the construction of good roads in rural areas have caused the country folk to desert the old type of theater in favor of the modern institution.

But an added reason is the advent of the talkies. The larger theaters, usually located in larger towns, have been the first to be wired for talking and sound films.

More than 8,000 theaters throughout the country have been wired to take for sound or talkies and electrical engineers are working as fast as possible to supply the furious demand. Within a few years it is predicted that no motion picture theater will be able to survive without being equipped for sound and talking pictures.

The old fashioned campaign type of movie house cannot afford the talking equipment and with the larger town theaters carrying the new talkie entertainment within automobile range—the one horse movie theater appears doomed.

Part of the tremendous appeal of the talkies is the opportunity to hear the great Broadway actresses and actors. It is a case of making the mountain go to Mohammed for while everywhere cannot go to Broadway this new miracle of expression en-

"KONJOLA THE BEST MEDICINE I EVER HEARD OF"

Grateful Lady Praises Modern Compound for Wonderful Relief It Brought

MISS ANNA JOHNSON

"Konjola is the best medicine that I ever heard of," said Miss Anna Johnson, Kingsville, O. My stomach troubled me for some time. Gas formed after every meal and caused short breath and heart palpitation. I had no appetite. My liver caused a lot of trouble. I was subject to dizzy spells, headaches and bilious attacks. There were rheumatic pains all over my body. My limbs were stiff and my hands cramped.

"I was hardly prepared for the wonderful results Konjola brought. My stomach and liver have been corrected. My food digests as it should. I never suffer after meals. All the old distress is gone. Headaches, dizzy spells and bilious attacks are merely unpleasant memories. Rheumatism has been driven from my system. I feel much better than for a long time. I endorse Konjola as a medicine of real merit.

Konjola is sold in Marion, O. at Stump & Sons Pharmacy, and is the best drug store in all towns throughout this section.—Adv.

ables Broadway to come to every body.

And the days have changed since a voyage down to the general store was an adventure. And Dobbin was hitched up and several days' supplies stowed away for a fifty mile trip to town.

Nowadays the family packs into a commodious automobile—or at least an automobile—and speeds to the nearest town to see the crying out loud movies.

It is a real adventure—something new and a gamble as to whether the future will be good or just an ear ache.

But the new form of entertainment is getting better and better. (Most new things squeak at first) and going to the talkies will become a national habit.

Father Will Feel Out of Place Sunday as "Dad's" Day Is Observed by Family

The most out-of-place person in the world Sunday will be "dad." For the sixth consecutive year, this day will be set aside for his own special pleasure—when wives, sons and daughters will shower upon him unmeasured favors and attention. And why wouldn't he feel out of place? He will be allowed to scatter the Sunday papers hither and yon without cries of consternation from the wife as she attempts to keep the house neat for the expected callers from daughter, who wants the society section intact and from son who can't see why father won't give up the sport pages.

The don't of the other 364 days of the year will be forgotten and father can do just as he pleases. It will be perfectly okay if he drops cigar ashes on the floor or enjoys himself about the house in his slippers and in his stocking feet.

"Dad" can be thanked for many things. Think of those bitterly cold mornings when he slipped downstairs to light the furnace so that the house would be warm for the remainder of the family, of the days in the year he labored to provide the necessities of life. One could spend a day writing down the things for which he is directly responsible.

Here is a verse taken from an Indiana newspaper that seems to hit the spot from every angle:

Who is it wears the patchwork hose, And seldom goes to picture shows That his girl may have fine clothes? It's Father!

Who is it wears last summer's hat, That his boy may join a frat, And thinks it's quite all right at that? It's Father!

Who is it buys the bread and meat? Who keeps the shoes on all our feet, And then gets shoved in a back seat, It's Father!

We're Mother's day and Poppy day And lots of other holidays, But almost all are Labor days For Father!

Get out his slippers, and easy chair, Carve and smooth his rumpled hair, And let him know you're glad he's there— It's Father!

Ritzy Rosalie

© 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc. All Rights Reserved.

ROSALIE wandered through the shops all morning in search of a new dress, and with her mind switching from laces to prints and then back to laces again she came suddenly across the answer to her wishes. It was a silhouette of printed lace, and was available in a variety of styles and colors. One was a frock of beige net, with its very narrow silhouette accented by broken tiers of pleated beige lace. Others were of black lace printed in gay colors, and black chiffon printed in green, but Rosalie's choice was a bit of brightly printed beige lace with filmy drapes.

Moths will avoid carpets and rugs under which a plentiful amount of alum has been sprinkled. If an out-of-the-way corner of a carpet is attacked, spread a wet cloth over the affected spot and iron with a hot iron. The steam will kill larvae as well as eggs.

Better be afraid of humility when you encounter it. It may be a mask.

"I want to know where my bread comes from!"

There IS a difference in bread

"I don't want bread from some nameless basement bakery. I want my bread from a bakery that's clean as my own kitchen. I want it baked by bakers who are proud of their bread and their bakery. I've stopped baking but I still want clean bread. That's why I've made it a point to visit the bakery where Holsum bread is made. Holsum is the bread I serve."

K NOW where your bread is baked and how. Don't take a chance with the bread you buy. You can't afford to.

Find out who bakes your bread. Visit the bakeshop. Then buy the loaf that you can be proud to serve, baked in a bakery as clean as your own kitchen. Buy Holsum bread. Serve Holsum bread. Each loaf is made clean... sold clean... delivered clean. Come and see how the Holsum bakers keep house.
